

Campus Facilities Recently Improved

While the students are away, the management plays. Plays at improving the physical appearance of the Wartburg campus, that is.

As usual, the summer months were busy ones for the business office, because that is when the major changes occur all over campus.

THE MAIN ITEM was the completion of the chapel-auditorium, to be dedicated Sunday. Along with the finishing of the building, the sidewalks, streets and lawns adjacent to the structure are now free of the debris necessitated by the building crews.

Much of the work of the Student Body Project has drawn to a close. The Little Theater has been remodeled to become a place of student recreation. Lights now appear on the tennis courts.

AN ADDITION has been made to Schield Stadium, bringing its capacity to 1,600 as opposed to the previous 1,000. A 60-foot section now augments the original 100-foot structure.

A major improvement to the language department has come with the construction of a language laboratory in Luther Hall. The lab, located in Room 201, contains 30 booths for students, equipped with a microphone and head set.

The teacher seated at the front panel can converse with the students individually or as a group. In addition, tapes may be played for the students.

An office has been added in Knights Gymnasium for the new physical education instructor, David Olson. The classroom in the northwest corner of the gym has also been remodeled.

THE PENTAGON, former men's or women's residence, has been removed from campus. Formerly located just north of the Fine Arts Building, it now has become a farm building near Waverly.

The treasurer's office has been remodeled and enlarged. The extra space came from the faculty lounge.

The usual remodeling and redecorating has taken place in the Union and the dormitories. The shower room in North Hall has been completely redone, and major improvements have been made at Cotta, Ketha and Alpha Houses.

1,027 Enroll At W'burg

Wartburg's enrollment hit 1,027 yesterday afternoon.

Of the total, 427 freshmen and 565 upperclassmen make 992 full-time students, just eight shy of the 1,000 mark. The additional 35 part-time students bring the enrollment up to 1,027.

More students are expected to register during the coming week. Registration will not officially close until Sept. 26.

PRES. C. H. Becker said, "We anticipate nearly 1,050 before registration closes."

Among the student members of the Wartburg family are seven from foreign countries—Canada, Norway, Germany and the Philippines.

IOWA is represented by over six hundred full-time students. Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin are other states that produced large numbers of students. In all, 21 states are represented.

The freshman class is the largest in the history of the school. The class exceeds the record of 398, set last year, by more than 25 students.

Five Dorms Pick Officers

Five of Wartburg's six dormitories elected officers and dorm council members during the past week.

Serving as president of Centennial Hall is Joyce Brenke, sophomore. Other officers include sophomores Esther Bahlmann, vice president; Doreen Davidson, secretary; and Barbara Kumpf, treasurer.

Centennial's dorm council members are sophomores Beverly Weidler, Judy Hammond, Juline Duis, Ruth Olson, Harriet Rieck, Elaine Eggert and Karen Moeller.

Sophomore Gerald Seifert is president of Grossmann Hall, while senior Bill Schroeder is vice president, sophomore Len Schmidt is secretary and junior Ed Knop is treasurer.

Vollmer Hall chose senior Marian Stubenvoll, president; and juniors Jan Kriesel, vice president; Lavonne Rickertsen, secretary; and Marilyn Rugroden, treasurer.

Dorm council members are seniors Joan Pirner and Gayle

Turner; juniors Judy Holtz, Marlene Yohe, Cathy Gammel and Norma Boyd; and sophomores Linda Blobaum and Claudette Zwicker.

Serving as officers of Wartburg Hall are sophomores Barbara Anderson, president; Sandy Gesell, vice president; and Mary Kuenzie, secretary-treasurer.

Sophomores Elizabeth Dinsdale, Diane Goehring, Maryan Shipley, Deanna Nickel, Judy Seffer and Helena Humann and freshman Joan Stewart make up the dorm council.

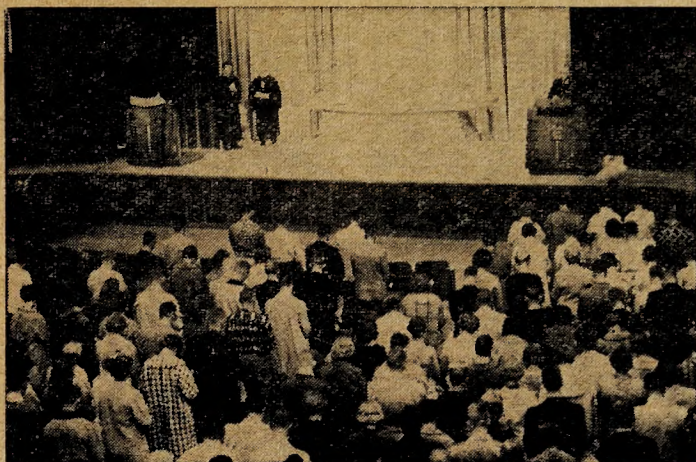

Clinton Hall will elect its officers and dorm council representatives Monday night.

Chapel Dedication Sunday

PRES. C. H. Becker leads the Student Body in prayer Wednesday night in the new chapel-auditorium, which will be dedicated tomorrow.

By Chuck Jepsen

Wartburg's new $400,000 chapel-auditorium will be dedicated tomorrow.

During the morning worship service at 10:30 a.m. the sermon will be delivered by Dr. George S. Schultz, director of stewardship and finance of the American Lutheran Church.

THE SERVICE will begin with a procession that will form on the mall between the gymnasium and the student union. A brief opening service will be held there at 10:15 a.m., after which the whole congregation will march in procession to the chapel-auditorium.

A rite of dedication, to follow the worship service, will be led by Dr. Henry F. Schuh, president of the ALC. Other participants will include Dr. Hermann Siefkes, president of the Iowa District of the ALC; Dr. William Schmidt, pastor of Waverly's St. Paul's Lutheran Church; Wartburg president, Dr. C. H. Becker; and the Rev. Herman Diers, Wartburg chaplain.

The Wartburg Choir will sing.

On the slate for the afternoon are open house and guided tours. Under the direction of business manager Herb Engelbrecht, the tours will include working demonstrations of the structure's equipment. The tours will begin at 2:30 p.m.

DR. WILLIAM Young, executive secretary of the board of higher education of the ALC, and Dr. Siefkes will be the speakers at the invitational dinner to be held in the college cafeteria at 5:30 p.m.

Mayor Fred Gaylor of Waverly will open the evening activities at 8 p.m. The evening program will be musical, featuring performances by the college concert groups and Miss Jean Abramson, piano instructor.

Construction of the building was begun early in the spring of 1959 by Drape Construction Company of Waverly.

ONE OF ITS features is the 31-ft. by 72-ft. stage, bordered by an array of curtains and legs.

The 17-speaker public address system is controlled by a prefabricated switch panel. The panel also regulates most of the lights. By use of remote control, lights may be dimmed and the PA-system may be adjusted from the balcony and podium as well as from the board.

FACULTY WOMEN BAKE

Cakes Make Dough For Scholarships

By Linda Mugridge

Wartburg students can have their cake and eat it, too, thanks to the Wartburg Women's Club.

Last February the club, composed of Wartburg faculty and staff members plus wives of male faculty and staff members, began providing homemade cakes for students whose birthdays occurred during the school year.

Under the direction of Mrs. John Chellevoid, last year's president, club members wrote parents of students, telling them of the cakes, which would be baked and delivered for three dollars.

The club then donated birthday cakes to students whose parents ordered them, and the money went into a scholarship fund. Last semester the club, which already sponsored a $150 scholarship, was able to finance a second one with money raised by the cake campaign.

According to Mrs. E. A. Schick, this year's club president, birthday cake baking will continue this year.

"The parents were very appreciative of the service," remarked Mrs. Chellevoid. "We received quite a few letters from them."

The student reaction was also positive.

"This is one of the nicest things I've heard of!" exclaimed one cake-receiving coed last year.

Altogether, the approximately sixty members of the Wartburg Women's Club baked and delivered 120 cakes last semester. The program itself is not unique at Wartburg but is practiced on a number of college campuses.

"The cakes are available to all students," said Mrs. Chellevoid. "Sometimes there was misunderstanding that only girls could receive them."

However, the cake-financed scholarships are available to women only. Even with this restriction, Wartburg students don't lose. They have their cake and eat it, too.

Mrs. Chellevoid

Frosh Elect

Freshman class elections will be held next Monday evening, according to Duane Nelson, elections chairman. Election will be held in the chapel-auditorium promptly at 7:15 p.m.

Four Seniors To Assist In American Literature

Four senior scholar assistants will help teach American literature this year.

According to Dr. Edwin Sandberg, head of the English Department, the three-hour literature course, English 205, will consist of two lectures and one discussion group per week. The students will conduct the discussion groups.

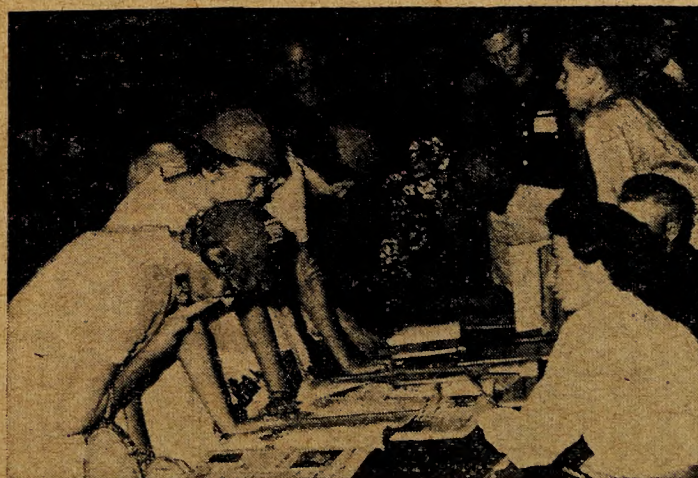

Participating in the program are seniors Grace Jahn, Tom Maik, Bob Boettcher and K. D. Briner. Faculty members assisting Dr. Sandberg are Charles Watermann and Miss Marjorie Sowatsky of the English Department.

"This arrangement will allow students to supplement and explore more deeply the ideas presented in the lectures," commented Dr. Sandberg.

Other advantages for the students, according to Dr. Sandberg, are the chance for more individual participation and unlimited enrollment. The discussion groups will consist of about twenty students. If more than 80 enroll, another senior scholar will be added.

In addition to conducting the discussion groups, the senior scholars will administer and correct all tests, which have been made out by Dr. Sandberg, and attend the last half of departmental meetings. They will receive one credit towards graduation plus pay

According to mathematicians, the shortest distance between two points is a straight line.
That the shortest distance between two points at Wartburg is not such a line perhaps results from the fact that the lines are seldom straight. The cafeteria line, for example, curves up the union stairway or out the door.
The registration lines curve around advisers and section-ing desks. The most painful line curves as it runs into the treasurer's office.
Even the few straight lines around here, the hall-full of upperclassmen waiting for registration material, for example, are definitely not the shortest distance between two points.
When you come right down to it, the route anyone, especially a freshman, travels during the first week of school is a round-about affair of not-so-straight lines.
Of course, there are ways to endure the situation.
Many seek to avoid the cafeteria line by going to meals at the very beginning of the eating period. That way they can always say as they take their places at the end of the line that already stretches past the post office window, "I didn't think there would be a line this early." A bit frustrating, but they tried.
Some rugged individualists refuse to stand in line.
Of course they miss their meals, their classes close out on them and the treasurer sends them threatening notes.
Others, not so rugged and more inclined to three meals a day, gradually pick up the tricks of standing in line. First of all, it's easier if a chair is available. Then you can sit in line. If there isn't a chair around, lean against something and stare into space. Everybody will think you're so sophisticated that you actually don't mind standing in line.
A more active line-standing technique is that of reading name tags of your fellow students. Not only does it pass the time, but you may also discover that the fellow you've been calling Fred for three years is Joe.
If you are extraordinarily dextrous, you can write letters or read newspapers while standing in line.
However, the best way to cure the standing-in-line blues is to repeat to yourself the mathematical axiom —
"The shortest distance between two points is a straight line." You may omit the "straight" if you wish.
Hear, hear! What's this? When the freshmen coeds were asked to choose male partners at Amalgamation in Knights Gym last night, the guys not only backed away, they climbed the bleachers to escape the oncoming coed horde.

REGISTRATION IMPRESSIONS
Freshmen looking totally bewildered by the whole process.
Sophomores blasé — knowing the ropes and proud of it. Juniors gripping. Seniors yawning — too bored even to gripe.
★ ★ ★
Best guess as to their real sentiments:
Fresh—"I'll tear this place apart. Better look a little humble, though. Everyone says the upperclassmen expect it."
Sophs—"I wish I could remember how we do this."
Juniors—"Wonder if Dad really meant what he said about bring those grades up or else?"
Seniors—"That freshman looks as confused as I am."
Our nominations for the hardest-working guy at registration:
Mr. Engelbrecht: "Yes, sir, I'm sure I can pay the school that $1,217.50 by the end of the month if you'll just sign this slip."
Dean Oppermann: "Well, you see, Oppie — I mean, sir — I sort of goofed around my first three years, and I need to carry 34 hours each semester to graduate, but I know I can do it if I really settle down. Don't worry about that 1.13 last semester. Just a touch of spring fever. Now, if you'll just sign right here . . ."
Any Adviser: "But if I take Health Ed. at 2 that moves Russian to 10, which means I'll have to take Appreciation of Ballet at 8, in which case I'll have to drop Western Heritage and take Ed. Psych. at 1 unless . . ."

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Becker Welcomes Students

By the time the first issue of the Trumpet appears, the readers will know that they are sincerely welcome at Wartburg College. From now on, the sincerity of our welcome will best be demonstrated by our actions in the classroom, the offices, in the dormitories and on the campus.

Our opportunities to build a college which Wartburg students will love and of which they will always be proud are greater than ever. The quality of our more than one thousand full-time students is of the finest. Our faculty, always recognized as unusually strong, has been strengthened further by the addition of 12 new members.

THE NEW chapel-auditorium represents the realization of dreams and hopes and the answer to the prayers of virtually thousands. The chapel provides the physical setting for a rich and stimulating spiritual program on the campus. The auditorium should become the incentive for the finest dramatic productions and the richest convocation programs in the history of our college.

The new language laboratory can well serve to stimulate increased interest in the study of foreign languages. The enlarged stadium provides comfortable seating for five hundred additional visitors at our outdoor athletic contests.

During the present school year Wartburg College will take its place alongside six additional senior colleges in The American Lutheran Church. This means greater opportunities for the students of Wartburg College; it also means greater challenges and obligations.

THE NEW SCHOOL year will largely be successful in the measure in which each one of us, students, faculty and staff, determine that it shall be that;

in the measure in which we will individually take advantage of the opportunities which are offered through increased facilities.

May the Lord of the Church, Whom we at Wartburg profess to love and to serve, grant us a successful year, and may His abundant blessings be shed upon each of you.

Trumpet Wants Student Letters

The Wartburg Trumpet welcomes all letters from students.

Regardless of your views on any subject, we, and perhaps everyone on campus, would like to hear about them. You may be surprised to discover that others feel as you do but were afraid to speak before the public.

It is the Trumpet's policy that all letters be signed, and that the signature appear in the paper.

In the past, letters from the students have been few and far between. So, gang, let's remedy that situation this year.
Instead of hashing out your views with others in your dorm, write a letter to the Trumpet, the place where your opinion will do the most good.

Paper Needs Staff

Everyone interested in joining the Trumpet staff should attend a meeting Monday evening, according to Editor Linda Mugridge.

Reporters, advertising staff members and photographers are needed. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. in Room 207,

Teaching chemistry will be Richard W. Shellman, who was awarded a B. S. from the University of Illinois, Urbana, in 1952. After receiving his M. A. at Ohio State University in 1953, he did additional graduate work there. For three quarters he was a DuPont Teaching fellow.

Carlson

A 1954 Wartburg graduate, the Rev. Gustav Riggert, will teach Christianity part-time here, in addition to being a campus pastor at Iowa State Teachers College in Cedar Falls. He is a graduate of Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque.

Shellman

Joining the Wartburg staff as assistant librarian will be another Wartburg graduate, Miss Elizabeth Martin. She is working on a master's degree in library science at the University of Minnesota and has also studied at ISTC. In addition, she taught English at Oelwein and was librarian at Dubuque Senior High School.

Another new staff member is the Rev. Robert Gremmels, director of alumni affairs. Pastor Gremmels, a 1952 Wartburg graduate, took over his duties in June. He earned his M. A. in journalism at Ohio State University and his B. D. at Capital University, Columbus, Ohio. He was ordained in 1959.

McI Frahm, 1958 Wartburg grad, began duties as a full-time counselor in the Admissions Department Sept. 1. Frahm studied at Wartburg Seminary and worked at the Lutheran Children's Home in Muscatine.

Frosh Attending Citizenship Meet

Merlin Kuhlman, freshman from Bird City, Kan., is currently attending a National Citizenship Conference in Washington, D. C.

The conference, sponsored by the National Education Association, begins today and lasts through Monday. Kuhlman, who is president of the Central District Luther League of the old American Lutheran Church, is attending the meeting as a Luther League representative.

18 Upper-Class Girls Rooming Off-Campus

Because of overcrowding in the women's dormitories, 18 junior and senior girls are staying off-campus this year.

Six are living at Freeman House, 503 Seventh St. NW, and 12 are at Gamma House, the former Gies residence at 323 Seventh St. NW. The last time Wartburg girls were housed off-campus was two years ago when freshmen lived in Beta House and the Pentagon, which has since been torn down.

Six Confabs Held Here During Summer

The Wartburg campus was host to no less than six conventions this summer, in addition to the usual sessions of summer school.

The confabs began with the Iowa District Constituting Convention in June and ran through the Iowa District Luther League Convention, which ended a short week before school reconvened this fall.

In between were the Teacher Training Conference, the Confirmation Workshop, the Christian Day School and the Women's Missionary Constituting Convention.

Chapel - Auditorium Idea Begun In 1924; Dual-Use Structure Is Reality Today

By Grace Jahn

"Someday there'll be a chapel here."

These prophetic words were spoken in 1924 by the president of Wartburg College at that time, Director August Engelbrecht, as he stood in the spot that the dreamed-of chapel now occupies.

Wartburg's new chapel-auditorium is literally a dream come true 36 years after its origin.

According to Pres. C. H. Becker, the chapel-auditorium has been built to be in the very heart of Wartburg. "It's as accessible as any chapel could be," he commented.

The 1,365-seat building can be filled and vacated in a matter of minutes, and the 31-by-72-foot stage can be readied for religious or secular uses in the same length of time.

"No cost was spared," said President Becker as he pointed out the extensive walnut paneling.

The $400,000 structure has a lobby featuring marble pillars and a walnut ticket booth.

Adding to the symmetry of the building are two quotations inscribed on the wall on either side of the entrances.

The first is from John 8:32, "You will know the truth, and the truth will make you free."

Amiel is the source of the second, "Truth is the secret of eloquence and of virtue . . . It is the highest summit of art and of life."

The red plush seats and the tile floor, in addition to the unusual wall construction using diamond-shaped concrete blocks, help to beautify the interior.

The concrete blocks serve two purposes," said the president. "They break up the monotony of the wall, making it more attractive, and they add to the acoustical value."

The chapel-auditorium is only the second building in Iowa to use these blocks.

The hung ceiling itself is acoustic and is actually 15 feet below the roof of the structure.

"The acoustics are almost perfect," the president added.

Walnut is used again on the stage for the modern altar, pulpit and lectern. An 18-foot walnut cross with the crown of victory serves as a backdrop. An extensive series of curtains and legs completes the stage.

"The lighting is mainly indirect and can be adjusted to anything," explained Dr. Becker.

Musically the building offers a nine-foot Baldwin grand piano. A permanent organ for the balcony will be purchased in the near future, according to the president.

Dramatically the building boasts dressing rooms and a carpenter shop directly behind the stage.

The chapel-auditorium will be used for all religious worship purposes, convocations, dramatic presentations and some Artist Series events.

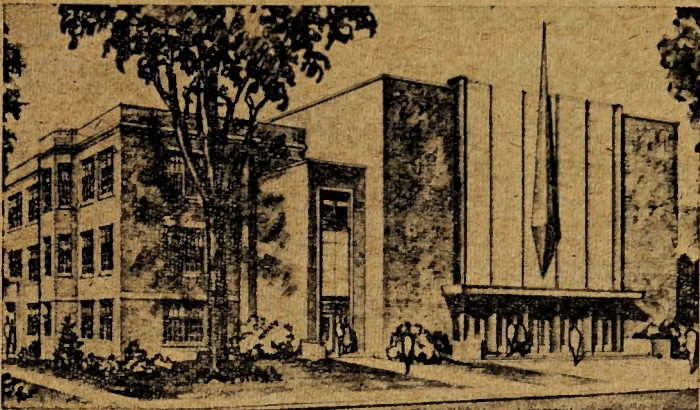

"We hope it will be the center of culture for generations to come," the president added.

In 1924 Director Engelbrecht said, "Someday there'll be a chapel here," and it came to pass in 1960.

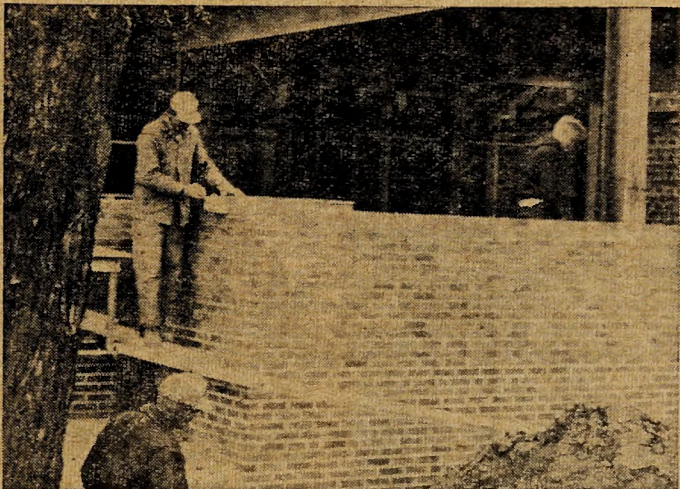

Tryouts Scheduled

Tryouts for Kastle Kapers, the annual Homecoming variety show, will be held Wednesday and Thursday, according to Director Bill Schroeder.

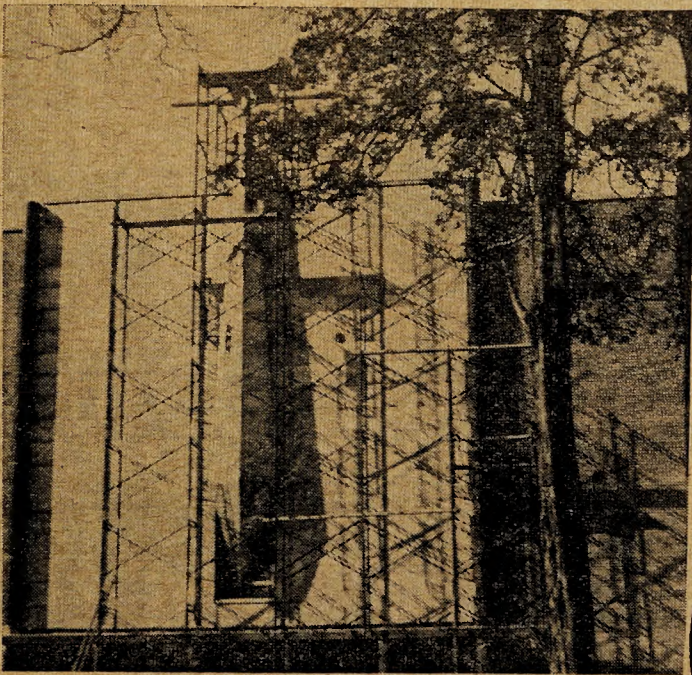

Musicians in the form of singers, dancers, a combo, a guitarist and two bongo players are needed.

THIS ARTIST'S conception of the chapel-auditorium, drawn two years ago, bears a striking resemblance to the completed structure today. The $400,000 structure, to serve two purposes, is the culmination of a 36-year-old dream in the minds of Wartburg College administrators.

WORKERS CAREFULLY add more bricks to the wall as they labor to beat the cold, snowy weather. The building, begun in early spring, was entirely enclosed by autumn of 1959. The workers then moved indoors and completed the 1,365-seat edifice.

BY SPRING 1960 the auditorium looked like this. Only the scaffolding around the outside mars the beauty which has emerged with the completion of the structure. Inside, the building is further enhanced by the use of marble columns in the lobby, walnut paneling throughout and diamond-shaped concrete blocks in the walls.

50 Freshmen Try For Band Places

Competition is keen this fall for membership in the Wartburg College Band. Nearly fifty freshmen, more than thirty of them boys, tried out for available openings.

Robert E. Lee, director, said, "I am looking forward to a banner year in the instrumental department."

He hastened to add, "There are never enough good players and always some fine musicians on campus who never try out for the musical organization. I wish they would come to see me."

The greatest need at the present time is locating a string bass player for stage band and concert band. Competent twirlers are also needed.

First Campus Movie Tonight In Auditorium

First campus movie of the year, "Don't Go Near the Water," will be held this evening in the chapel-auditorium.

Starring in the comedy are Glenn Ford, Eva Gabor, Keenan Wynn and Gia Scala. Admission to the movie, which begins at 7:30 p.m., is 25 cents.

Chaplain Moves

The office of College Chaplain Herman Diers has been moved. Formerly located on third floor of Old Main, Pastor Diers' office is now on the first landing of the stairway leading to the chapel-auditorium balcony from Luther Hall.

Freshman Activities Range From Moving To Buttoning

Here I am, a freshman at Wartburg College!

Gee, I've thought about this day for a long time with both anticipation and fear. Everything and everybody is new and strange. There's so much to do and so much to learn.

My roommate — what'll he be like? And my room — where will I put all my things? That top bunk looks awfully high.

I wonder which building is Luther Hall? I don't want to walk into the girls' dorm! Now, I think the library is over there, but where's the student union?

I've taken so many tests I don't know which way is up. Now I'll have to decide which courses I want and try to register before the sections close out.

What a day I've had! I missed breakfast, was late to my first class, couldn't find my second class and sat in the wrong convo seat.

This bright orange beanie I have to wear already feels like it's grown to my head. You know, I've heard some horrible stories about what they do to you here during initiation — get you up at all hours of the night, throw you into the fishpond and make you do exercises.

I don't know what I'm going to do with all of these dirty clothes. I've never washed or ironed a shirt before. Can't find my shaving soap or shaving cream. I left my typewriter at home, and my new fountain pen has a bad leak.

And I'm so tired, all I ever do is stand in one line after another.

Ho-hum, maybe after I've been here awhile . . .

"OH, MOST honorable upperclassman. Oh, most honorable upper classman. I am but a pooooor, misserrable freshman." Freshman Terrie Hegen goes through the motions.

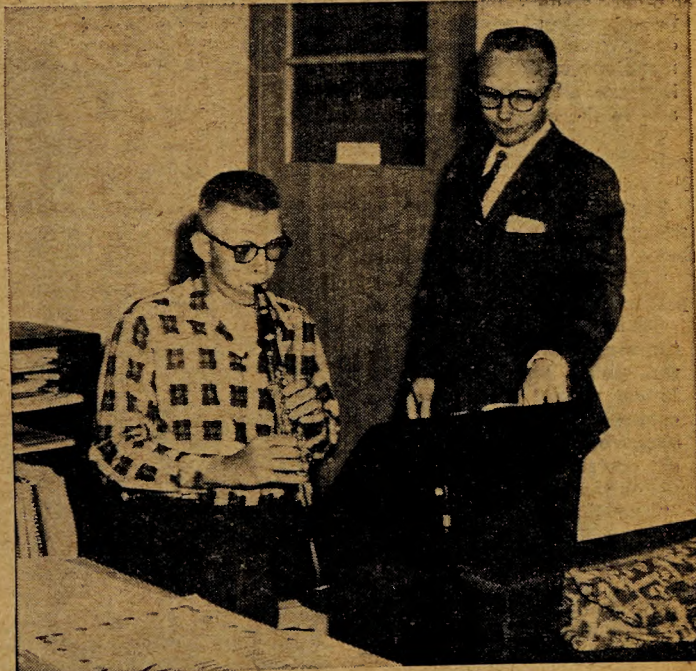

AFTER A FULL summer of rest and relaxation, the bevy of tests thrown at the frosh comes near to throwing them. Bowed heads, chewed pencils and nervous head-scratching characterize the exercise during exam morning.

Freshman testing, one of the first things on the year's agenda, has been followed by the President's reception, Senate night, Kangaroo Kourt and Der Ruhetag today. Cheer up, freshmen, the worst is yet to come.

ORGANIZATIONS OF all sorts get a boost when freshmen sign up. August Knoll, freshmen from Grimes, plays it sweet for Robert E. Lee, director of the Wartburg Band. Freshmen attending Senate night

Thursday discovered that Wartburg harbors a host of organizations ranging from the radio station through pre-professional groups through Pi Sigma.

Knights Win 14-0 As FB Season Gets Under Way

16th In Row Ties Conference Mark

INDIANOLA — Wartburg Knights overcame a sluggish first half and defeated Simpson here last night, 14-0.

The victory was the 16th conference win in a row for the Knights. This ties the conference record.

WARTBURG'S starting offensive eleven were ends Bob Mueller and Don Lehmann, tackles Henry Giesman and Chuck Wallen, guards Don Sowers and Roger Hildebrandt, center Terry Schneider, quarterback Marv Ott, halfbacks Tom Van Wyngarden and Bill Fulcher and fullback Wayne Dreier.

There was no score at half-time, and the Knights appeared to be playing below par. Wartburg made the only serious threat of the half, driving from their own 35 to Simpson's 18 yard line on the running of Wayne Dreier and his replacement at fullback, Chuck Wallen.

At the 18 yard line, an Ott pass, intended for Lehmann, was intercepted as the half ended.

NO SCORING came until the fourth quarter when, after an Ott punt had rolled dead on the Simpson 2, the Simpson ball carrier was tackled in the end zone by Don Sowers and a host of others. The safety gave the Knights a 2-0 lead.

Simpson then kicked off and Ott returned to the Simpson 45. After moving the ball to the 30, two long runs by soph Norm Mielke and Ott took the ball to the two-yard line. After several attempts, Dreier carried for the touchdown.

SIMPSON WAS then forced to punt and Wartburg took over at midfield. They drove to the 30, where frosh Ray Bye reeled off a 26-yard run to the four-yard line. After losing seven yards on the next play, freshman Bill Fulcher went around left end for the touchdown.

Wartburg's passing attack was weak and numerous attempts were picked off by the Simpson secondary, according to Trumpet Sports Editor Tom Kuckkahn.

The play of freshmen Bye, Fulcher and tackle Duane Huth gave promise of adding strength to Wartburg's ranks.

The Knight's next encounter is next Saturday against Luther in Schield Stadium.

CHALK TALK

By Tom Kuckkahn

Welcome, frosh —

Orientation seems to be one of the most common words these "squire daze", so I would like to do my part by introducing you to the Wartburg sports' scene.

Wartburg is the home of champions. Once the doormat of the Iowa Conference, the Knights have become more formidable every year until today they are the Iowa Conference champs in football and basketball for two consecutive years.

They are also co-champs in wrestling and golf and have become one of the most feared teams in the nine-team conference.

Based on league standings in all eight sports last year, the Knights finished seven points ahead of second-place Luther. Ten points were awarded for a first-place finish, eight for second, etc.

Wartburg has its share of trophies, as you have probably noticed. Two special awards are the victory bell and the Axe. The victory bell is awarded to the winner of the Upper Iowa-Wartburg football game, and the Axe is a traveling trophy between Luther and Wartburg.

The school which accumulates the most points throughout the season (50 points for the victor in a baseball game, etc.) receives the Axe the following fall.

Football and basketball were the sports in which the Knights won the most acclaim last year. In football the Jomen finished undefeated in the conference and extended their victory string to 15 straight conference games over a two-year span. At one time they were ranked 15th in the NAIA ratings.

The basketball team, the Axmen, finished the season with an 18-7 mark. They also picked up other honors along the way. They finished third in the Tall Corn Tournament and received a fourth consecutive invitation to the NCAA small college tournament. During the season they broke or tied 10 school marks.

You should be proud of Wartburg's Athletic Department, respect it and cheer the Knights on to another winning season.

Marv Ott Is Scmething Unique Here; He Sparks Knight Teams Year Round

By Darrell Jobman

Otticism — optimism because of Ott.

That's not a word or definition that you are likely to find in Webster's Dictionary, but it applies at Wartburg.

Knight fans feel that Marv Ott, senior from Arlington, could be the basis of more championship teams this year at Wartburg.

Wartburg's press brochure says in part about Ott, "One of the best ever to play in the Iowa Conference and probably the most versatile ever to play for Wartburg."

And, "Ott, who holds nearly every mark in the Wartburg record book (football), has been largely responsible for the Knights' success in the past."

To show that such comments aren't just idle talk, here are a few of the facts:

Ott holds the school records for most points in a season (72 on 12 touchdowns in 1953), most points in a career (139 from 1957-59), total offense in a season (1,030 yards in 1958), total offense in a career (2,359 yards from 1957-59) and total passing in a career (1,839 yards from 1957-59).

The important thing to Wartburgers, however, is that Ott still has a whole year to go. Three of the records mentioned will be extended this season almost the first time Ott steps on the field. And he could set several other passing or rushing marks.

Among other things, he was all-conference in 1958. Ott was the third leading scorer in the conference last year with 55 points. He also received the Hertel Award, given annually to an outstanding athlete lettering in two sports.

Ott started garnering letters in Arlington High School by getting four each in football and baseball and three in basketball. At Wartburg he has lettered three years each in football and baseball and once in basketball. It is almost a cinch that he will add another "W" in each sport this year.

Runners Get Large Squad

Coach Ax Bundgaard welcomed the largest cross-country team in the history of Wartburg College Thursday as 16 prospects and one letterman reported for practice.

Coach Bundgaard stated that he expected at least two and maybe more men to report before Monday. The lone letter winner in the group is Clint McLagen of St. Paul, Minn.

"WE ARE very gratified at the response to the appeal for a cross-country squad," said Dr. Bundgaard. "We have the largest squad in the history of Wartburg."

The squad includes Gary Janzonius, Prairie View, Kan.; Russel Leitz, Milford, Ill.; Charles Ostert, Maquoketa; Dan Knobloch, Peoria, Ill.; Paul Baumgarten, North Freedom, Wis.; George Max, Waverly; Bob McNerny, Waverly.

Doug Goke, Belmont, Wis.; Richard Harms, Shell Rock; James Miller, Shell Rock; DuWayne Ready, Charles City; Robert Brinkmann, Rockford; Jerald Schara, Middleton, Wis.; Thomas Rappath, St. Paul, Minn.; and Dan Strottman, Sumner.

DR. BUNDGAARD looks forward to a better season than last year, when the runners won only one dual meet but finished second in the conference meet, held for the first time last year.

"Who knows? In this group there might be a new Herb Elliot," remarked Bundgaard.

Elliot is presently the world's fastest miller.

IM To Schedule Football Season

Intramural football will hit the Wartburg sports scene next week.

Don Ringgenberg, junior from Lytton, is in charge of the intramural committee this year. He has placed football sign-up sheets and rules on the dorm walls.

Wartburg Bidding For Third Crown

By Darrell Jobman

"That third crown is going to be really hard to achieve," said head Knight football coach Norm Johansen last week.

Wartburg began its bid for an unprecedented third straight championship last night at Simpson, faced by graduation and injury losses and a lack of depth.

Only 15 of last year's 29 lettermen returned this year, but an excellent freshman crop may make a difference. Two veterans, Dennis Krominga and Jack McClellan, have returned after being out of school awhile.

MARV OTT, holder of many offensive records, leads the Knight veterans back into action and gives Wartburg an outstanding quarterback. Behind Ott are McClellan, sophomore Dick Bixby and Eldon Ott, Marv's freshman brother. Two good signal callers from last year did not return to school.

At the halfback spot Jo has two lettermen in Tom Van Wyngarden and Dave Jensen and two good frosh prospects. Jensen is out with a rib injury and may miss the first game. Stepping into the halfback slot next to Van Wyngarden for the first game is sophomore Norm Mielke from St. Paul, Minn.

Johansen says that freshman Bill Fulcher, 170-pounder from Winnipeg, Canada, will see a lot of action at halfback, and Ray Bye, 155-pound frosh from Janesville, will also see some action here.

FULLBACK COULD be a problem for Johansen, but shifted linemen should fill the gap. Wayne Dreier, also an end, played some at this position last year as an understudy to Larry Raper, leading rusher last year.

A back injury may keep Dreier out of the first game, says Johansen, but Chuck Wallin, letterman tackle last year, may take over this starting assignment for the first game.

Anchoring the Knight line at center are 188-pound junior Terry Schneider, starter the first game, and 180-pound Larry Collmann of Manson. Both lettered last year. Collmann was second team all-conference last year.

DON SOWERS is the only letterman back at guard. Filling the other guard shoes will be senior Roger Hildebrandt. Eight other gridgers are trying for a guard spot, but none have any college experience.

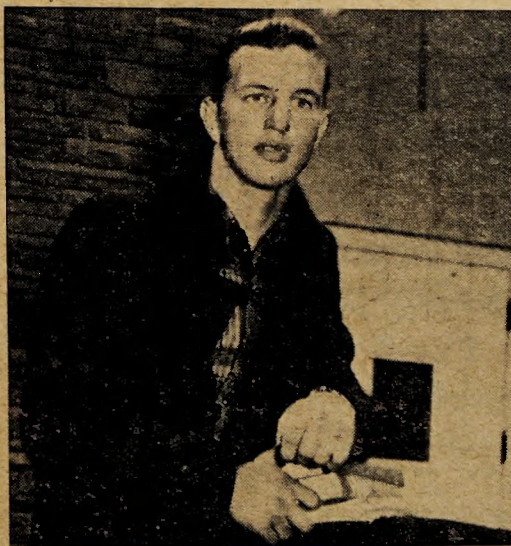

Three lettermen and eight 200-pounders make the tackle picture bright and could indicate some shifting to guard. Hank Giesman and Gerald Buckler will get the initial nod with big junior Dennis Krominga, kicking specialist, ready to move in.

Duane Huth, 201-pound freshman tackle from Des Moines, will probably see plenty of action, Johansen states.

THREE LETTERMEN also return at the ends. Senior Don Lehmann and junior Bob Mueller head the contention for these berths, followed by senior John Klaudt of Waverly.

As for the conference, Johansen, in his ninth year here, says flatly, "Buena Vista, Luther and Parsons will be tough."

Buena Vista needed only to replace a quarterback, and Parsons returns almost the same team. Luther needed a new backfield but still had a great line.

Marv Ott

coach after graduating, Ott may have a different job after school is out. Several big league baseball scouts have watched him and have indicated a strong interest. Ott, a natural hitter, plays third or first base and pitches for the Knights.

As to which sport is his favorite, Ott says, "I like them all." But he added, "I think I'd like to play pro baseball if I get a chance."

Ott, an even six feet tall and weighing 185 pounds, is rather modest and quiet, but he has a good sense of humor and is easy to talk to. His biggest thrill was winning the conference in football the first time.

It'll be tougher this year, but the Knights should roll, with Ott calling the plays. Wartburg abounds in Otticism.

Bells Ring, Diamonds Flash As Recess Spells Romance

"The bells are ringing for me and my gal." To copy the words of a well-known song, this seems to have been the experience of many Wartburgers over the summer vacation. A number of students have come back to the campus either married or engaged.

Cathy Carr, a senior from Monona, received a diamond from Paul Rebelein, a '59 Wartburg graduate who is presently employed in Minneapolis. Also engaged are seniors Lorraine Fiegen from Mason City and Lee Eichele from Lodi, Calif.

ANOTHER SENIOR, Delmar Klover, Marysville, Kan., is engaged to Deanna Childers, a '60 Wartburg graduate. In July, Betty Jane Haefs, a junior from New Prague, Minn., became engaged to Milton Bauer, a student at the University of Minnesota. Their wedding plans are indefinite.

Plans are also indefinite for Sandra Eppler, a Strawberry Point sophomore, engaged to Milo Schield of Waverly, who is attending Iowa State University.

Two Wisconsinites, senior Bob Boettcher and junior Janice Larson, also became engaged over the summer. On Labor Day, Sandra Hardy, a junior from Menomonie, Wis., received a diamond from Ken Marquardt, who attends Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque.

AMONG THE couples who came back to school married this fall are seniors Tom Van Wyngarden and the former Janet Rueber. They were married on Aug. 13. On June 19, JoAnn Schmidt, a senior home economics major, was married to Jerry Voss. They are now living in Clarksville.

Residing in Waverly are senior John Wollenzien and the former Garret Hansen, who has attended Wartburg for the past two years. They were married in August. The trailer court houses senior Bob Scharlau and his bride Connie Gosewisch, who attended Wartburg two years ago.

Also married during the summer were senior Richard Jebesen and Joyce Speicher, a '60 Wartburg graduate who teaches in Janesville. On Sept. 3, senior Eddie Skay and sophomore Judy McDonald were married. They now live in an apartment in Waverly.

LIVING IN WAVERLY also are senior Betty Waltmann and her husband Ernest Simon, who were married on June 4, and senior Andrea Zwanziger married to William Roys on Aug. 27.

Paul Schaedig, a senior, and his bride, Eileen Wegmeyer, were married on Aug. 24 and live in Waverly. Senior K. D. Briner and Sharon Bodecker, both from Waverly, were married Aug. 14.

From Ripon, Wis., senior Bruce Buslaff and Marlene Wilke were married on June 11. They are housed in the trailer court. Another senior, Stan Noyce, was married in August to Susanne Socha, who attended Wartburg two years ago.

College Publishes Booklet On Aged

An analysis of adjustment problems of aged people was published this summer by Wartburg College.

The 35-page booklet, "Facing Older Age in Bremer County," was chiefly edited by Dr. Carl F. Reuss, former Wartburg dean of faculty. The Sociology Department, under the direction of The Rev. August Baetke, gathered the data on which the booklet is based, and Miss Marie Haefner, Waverly social worker, supervised the interviews.

Dr. C. H. Becker, Wartburg president, acted in an advisory capacity.

Copies of the booklet were sent to sociology departments and libraries of colleges throughout the United States, to Lutheran pastors in Iowa and to various committees appointed by President Dwight Eisenhower to study the problem of aging.

Schmidt, Director Convo Speakers

Dr. Theodore Diestler, executive director of the Association of American Colleges, will highlight the convocation program next Tuesday morning.

He will travel from Washington, D.C., to talk on "The Role of the Christian College."

Thursday Dr. Karl T. Schmidt, head of the Christianity Department, will speak on the subject "A Man's Suit Has 10 Pockets." He declined to elaborate on the title but promised to satisfy aroused curiosities at convo Thursday.

Cruising Around

By Carr

Well, here we are again. But from the looks of the cafeteria, the "we" consists mostly of the orange beanie gang. No more "green" freshmen?

The poor freshmen have so much to think about anyway, what with learning to button with the correct amount of solemnity, and wondering just how wet that fishpond really is and whether upperclassmen really do let them find out. But now they are faced with more decisions:

Shall I try out for the tiddly-winks team, or shall I be more practical and take up bead-stringing? Maybe the Senate Night helped solve some problems.

The girls, at least, are going to be pretty busy this Sunday afternoon. Pi Sigma is sponsoring a tea for all Wartburg women from 3 to 5 p.m. in Centennial Hall Lounge. This tea for two is especially for big- and little-sisses, but all women are invited, including those on the faculty.

Phebes also has a big-sis, little-sis, get together Sunday afternoon at 1:30, place to be announced.

According to the posters, Chi Rho is also meeting Sunday, but more particulars seem to be anyone's guess.

All campus church members, be on the alert for the precinct meetings coming up Monday and Tuesday nights, times to be announced.

The season's first debate meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 19, in the balcony classroom of the Little Theater.

W-Club will meet Tuesday, Sept. 20, at 7 p.m. in Room 203, Luther Hall.

That's about all for this time. Don't worry, freshmen, life at Wartburg isn't always this hectic. It gets worse as you get older.

Faculty Members Take New Positions

In addition to new members, a number of changes have taken place in the Wartburg faculty.

James Fritschel, Music Department, was awarded his Ph. D. at the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, in August.

Dr. Edwin Sandberg was made head of the English Department, replacing Dr. G. J. Neumann, who is retiring to part-time teaching. Miss Erna Moehl will now head Communication Skills. The Rev. Walter Tillmanns was promoted to the head of the Languages and Literature Division.

The Rev. August Baetke was made full professor of sociology. Promoted to associate professorships were G. Rudolph Bjorgan, history and political science; the Rev. E. A. Schick, Christianity; Dr. Wilmut Fruehling, psychology; and Dr. Katherine Love, German.

New assistant professors are Dr. Fritschel, music; Richard Wiederanders, mathematics and engineering; and the Rev. Raymond Harms, Christianity and Greek.

Welcome— STUDENTS & FACULTY — of WARTBURG

We are happy to join the rest of the Waverly Community in welcoming back upperclassmen and bidding a special welcome to new students who will be making Waverly their home for the next four years. Too, we again bid a warm welcome to Wartburg's outstanding faculty. WELCOME TO WAVERLY WHERE EDUCATION AND INDUSTRY GO HAND IN HAND.
